High Paid Railroad Officials Who Do Not Earn Their Salaries Are the Men Whose Jobs Are in Danger Under Government Control

By Theodore M. Knappen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Blessed are the Shareholders, and likewise the Dividends and Interest. Blessed are the Railway Executives Who Do Things, for they shall continue to draw Good Pay. But woe be to the Parasites, for they shall lose the Job that Payeth and Requireth no Toil. I have found out what the Director General of Railways meant by his misunderstood talk about slashing railway salaries. He is after the unearned salary. And the talk around the national railway headquarters is that the unearned railway salary is legion. One of the agencies of government ownership has always been the padded payroll. Government ownership in France and Italy meant more jobs, more pay and less work.

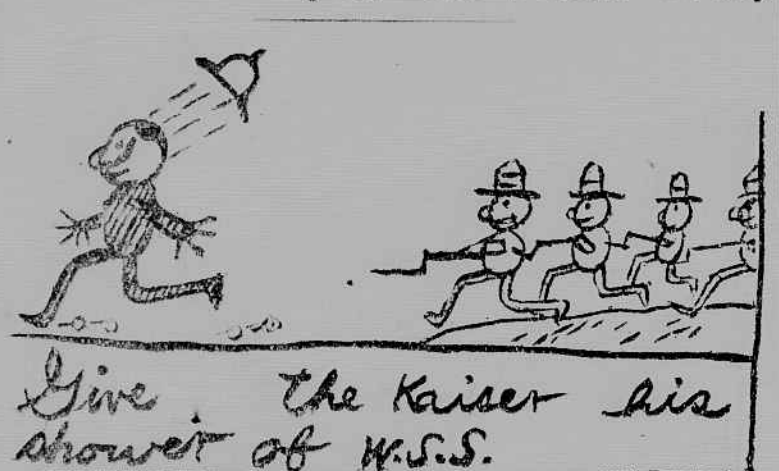

Human nature being much the same everywhere, there is little doubt that government ownership would mean the same in the United States. Which does not preclude privately owned railways from also overloading with the superfluous officialdom, especially when the minority shareholders dolefully intrust their properties to self-perpetuating directors, as is the custom of American railways.

Some Revelations Are Expected

The search for the high-up official whose only claim to a big salary is family connection, social ties and favor with an important shareholder or banking house is now on, and it is intimated that in the not distant future there will be some surprising revelations and some offices without occupants. The favorite title for the good fellow with a big railway salary is said to be that of vice-president.

Some railways have perhaps more vice-presidents than they have divisions. There are railway vice-presidents in New York, it is said, who are drawing $20,000 a year and upward and have never seen the roads whose stationery they grace. Sons and nephews of departed magnates or of living "dominating interests" have been located in soft berths, with duties no more painful than long hours of golf. Some-in-law, it is said, also show remarkable adapta-

Women Will Sell Thrift Stamps While Upton Men Parade To-day

"Back up your sons by buying war savings stamps."

This appeal will follow the National Army men from Camp Upton as they parade along Fifth Avenue to-day. It will be made through a banner on an army truck, escorted by a detachment of Boy and Girl Scouts, who will carry banners bearing messages of thrift.

Girls from the National League for Women's Service, William A. Brady, Joseph J. Bernat, R. H. Burnside, G. G. Gatti-Casazza, Cleofante Campinini, George M. Cohen, Robert A. Franks, Sam H. Harris and Florence Ziegfeld are also members of the committee. An announcement in detail of the way the parade will be conducted will be made to-day.

A concert will be held in the interest of the committee at the Metropolitan Opera House Tuesday evening, March 12, it was announced yesterday. Captain Charles B. Dillingham and Mark A. Linschmeider are chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the committee which is arranging the affair.

Others on Committee

David Belasco, Theodore Bauer, Ed. and Ziegler, William A. Brady, Joseph J. Bernat, R. H. Burnside, G. G. Gatti-Casazza, Cleofante Campinini, George M. Cohen, Robert A. Franks, Sam H. Harris and Florence Ziegfeld are also members of the committee. An announcement in detail of the way the parade will be conducted will be made to-day.

As soon as a Scout has taken orders the twenty-five individuals, it is explained, he will receive an "achievement button" and the "ace medal" if his sales averaged $10 each. The "ace Scout" in each state who throughout the year wins the greatest number of awards will receive a personal letter of thanks from President Wilson.

Suffragists Call on Wadsworth to Resign

Senator's Determination to Oppose Equal Rights Amendment Arouses Women

"There is only one thing left for him to do if he is honest, and that is—resign," suffragists were so indignant yesterday at the reply made by Senator Wadsworth to their last letters in reference to the Federal suffrage amendment that they gave up all hope of securing his vote and issued the demand for his resignation.

Senator Wadsworth brought this down on his head by a letter he wrote to Mrs. Wilmer Kearns, a suffragist of Rockville Centre and one of the original signers of the demand.

"It is my intention to vote against the Federal suffrage amendment," was the gist of the Senator's letter.

Mrs. Kearns rushed in from Long Island and submitted this document to the officials of the National Woman's Suffrage party.

"If he isn't the king mule of the 'board' of the National Woman's Suffrage party," declared Mrs. John Rogers, legislative secretary of the party, "there is just one thing left for him to do if he doesn't want to represent his State in Congress—he'd better resign."

Even his party seems to have no influence on him. His state voted for suffrage last fall and his State Legislature passed a resolution asking him to vote in favor of suffrage, and now the Republican National Committee in St. Louis votes to endorse the Federal amendment. A man isn't supposed to carry his personal prejudices to the extent of favoring a party, he is supposed to represent. We don't send him to Congress to please his wife."
